Image noise is random variation of brightness or color information in images, and is usually an aspect of electronic noise. It can be produced by the sensor and circuitry of a scanner or digital camera. Image noise can also originate in film grain and in the unavoidable shot noise of an ideal photon detector. Image noise is an undesirable by-product of image capture that obscures the desired ...

The post explains the need for transmit pulse shaping filters and explains two types of filtering - rectangular (box car) filter and Nyquist (optimal) filter.

This is an educational blog aimed at helping the reader understand the theory behind digital signal processing blocks used in digital communication transmitter and receiver. The theory is explained using classical text books as reference accompanied with simulation model using Matlab and/or Octave scripts.
